

RHINOMED DISTRIBUTION EXTENDS TO JET.COM

April 29, 2016. Melbourne, Australia.

Nasal respiratory technology company Rhinomed (ASX:RNO) is pleased to announce it will begin distributing its Mute™ brand through the US online shopping channel Jet.com.

Jet.com is a rapidly expanding online membership savings club that offers goods across categories such as grocery, sports and fitness and health and beauty areas. The model, which enables free membership and shipping, has a strong promotional strategy, which is reflected in its growing customer base.

“Jet.com’s ability to attract a wide range of customers and its visibility amongst our target market makes it an important addition to our online distribution model,” said Michael Johnson, Chief Executive Officer of Rhinomed.

Both Mute and Turbine are developed from an internal nasal stent technology platform that relieves nasal congestion and delivers an instant feeling of increased airflow. The products are created from ultra soft medical grade polymers and are registered with the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA).
